

COPYRIGHT 1908.

The Amateur Hypnotist

LENGTH, 580 FEET.

A Rube coming to town and seeing the sign of a hypnotist decides to learn how this mysterious art is done.
He enters the Professor's Office, pays in advance, and is taught the secret of the graft.

The medium, which by the way is the Professor's wife, makes the Rube believe he can hypnotize her. Delighted with his new power, the amateur hypnotist starts on his way home, and tries on every passer-by his new art.

He meets with strong rebuttal. At last he turns back to the Professor, asking his money back, or breaking up housekeeping.
The Professor and the medium throw the Rube out of the window and laughingly divide the spoil.

Manufactured Exclusively By
S. LUBIN,

10000 - 3-08

MANUFACTURER OF
Life Motion Picture Machines, Films, Slides and Stereopticons,
19-21 S. 8TH ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA., U.S.A.